Pink Preview: Three events to help find a cure

Breast Cancer not only effects the patient, but also the patient's family and friends. Support and love is a major part of the treatment and healing process.

The Pink Tie Guys event, on Thursday, Dec. 18 from 6-8 p.m., is the premier Kick-Off party honoring the men who support Susan G. Komen and the Susan G. Komen Perfect Pink Party Gala.

Susan G. Komen is the largest grass-roots network of breast cancer survivors. The organization advocates fighting to save lives, empower patients and survivors, ensure quality care for all and helps to fund research to find cures.

Gentlemen guests to the Pink Tie Guy reception will receive an exquisite pink tie, generously donated by Briotti on Worth Ave. in Palm Beach.

The event will be co-hosted by the event's chairs, Christina Baker, Nancy and Bill Rollnick and Dan Ponton at Club Colette on Palm Beach.

On Jan. 8 at 6 p.m., at the corner of Flagler Drive and North Clematis in West Palm Beach, show your support and join the Susan G. Komen community at the Lighting of the Middle Palm Beach Bridge in Pink.

This year marks the 5th anniversary of the Susan G. Komen Perfect Pink Party Gala, which will take place on Jan. 10 at The Mar-a-Lago Club, Palm Beach.

For more information on any of these events, please contact Donna Ross Dodson at (561) 307-8000 or dross@komen.org.

Rare colored diamonds are a community's best friend

Ring in the Holidays with Diamanté atelier

A 2.42 natural fancy vivid yellow, internally flawless center stone, featuring 64 stones, 32 white diamonds and 32 yellow diamonds.

To request an appointment at our Palm Beach Gallery, please call: (561) 202.1600, or visit www.Diamanteatelier.com

What do you get when you mix the world's hardest asset with a charitable cause? A dazzling display of philanthropy.

Jose and Rosa Aman, second-generation jewelers, know the value of rare colored diamonds – the world's most concentrated form of wealth – and the value of giving back to the community.

Natural fancy colored diamonds account for one percent of all diamonds mined today. For every 10,000 carats of colorless diamonds mined, only one carat of natural fancy diamonds is found. "While the availability of these diamonds is decreasing, their value is increasing," Mr. Aman says.

Rare investment-grade stones are made more special by crafting them into bespoke pieces at Diamanté atelier, located on Worth Avenue in Palm Beach.

The Amans, who own the atelier, a Natural Investments company, donate exquisite pieces to support various charities in our communities.

Guests at a past American Heart Association ball watched Diamanté atelier craftsmen cut a diamond live. Diamanté atelier also donated a pink diamond cocktail ring and a once-in-a-lifetime visit to a Botswana diamond mine paired with a luxury safari to the same organization.

Palm Beachers also will remember the rare yellow diamond Diamanté atelier donated for a live auction benefitting Kidsanuary at last season's Haute Hoedown. And supporters of Susan G. Komen appreciate the $75,000 donation Natural Investments made to the organization during a one-hour online auction.

This season, Diamanté atelier will continue crafting wearable wealth for clients and non-profits alike.
